

Avinotropin™

CONCENTRATED GROWTH FACTORS
(Standardised to 100 mcg of IGF-1)

There has never been a supplement with the strength gains of HGH, the healing powers of a hyperbaric chamber, endurance gains of EPO, the hormone balancing of HCG, the total system regeneration of a full matrix of growth factors including 100 mcg of IGF-1 per bottle of Avinotropin Plus and 45 mcg of IGF-1 per bottle of Avinotropin, all administered with a breakthrough patent pending gland rejuvenating formula.

Avinotropin is a specialized 43:1 concentrated whole extract of exceptional quality deer antler velvet in a special high absorption delivery solution. Chinese medicine has revered deer antler velvet for its many nutrients, minerals, glycosaminoglycans, growth hormones and much more. These nutrients have supported the repair of tissues, balancing of hormones including reduction of cortisol and estrogen and elevation of testosterone and IGF-1. In Chinese medicine it has been used for blood health beginning in the bone marrow.

Avinotropin contains a powerful blend of growth factors in a naturally occurring matrix. These naturally occurring growth factors are involved in every cellular function in the human body, from metabolism to immune response. It provides a solution to the age old quest for the fountain of youth, by giving us a naturally occurring concentration of anti-aging components.

Notes on Avinotropin and Avinotropin Plus

By Dr. Frank A. Charles

Deer antler velvet whole nutrient extracts produced from 43 lbs. of velvet which is concentrated down to 1 lb. and then undergoes a triple cold alcohol extraction process and then it is preserved in a high quality ethanol delivery system for maximum absorption.

More powerful and effective than all other extracts I have seen or used. Many products have nutrients but none can approximate the amount or quality of the all important growth factors.

Avinotropin Plus is standardized to 100mcg of IGF-1 and Avinotropin is standardized to 45mcg of IGF-1 making them dollar for dollar the most potent and cost effective sources of deer antler velvet available today. Avinotropin is bottled in glass. Plastics degrade and absorb any growth factors and are not utilized in top products containing growth factors.

We recommend that you commit to using Avinotropin products for at least 3 months to see maximum results. Initially most people experience increases in endurance, mental focus, deeper sleep, and elevated moods.

In the second and third month of use people report more endurance, strength gains and a host of benefits related to the growth factors including increased strength gains, joint function and repair bone density. Other benefits associated with healthier hormone balance for men and women have included increases in muscle mass, fertility, libido and improved female hormone related complaints.

Directions for Use:

Hold under tongue for 60 seconds and then swish into sides of mouth for another 30 seconds before swallowing. If you don't like the slight burning herbal sensation you may add a little water to the mix.
